Right Where We Are By Sheila Mills

"...and there he worshiped the LORD - Genesis 13:4

There.

Right where Abraham stood, at an altar he had built, there he worshiped the LORD.

With all the media technology available to American churches today, it's easy to get caught up in the production, forgetting such technology is only a tool best left under God's supervision. We tend to overlook worship is not about the music or the voices or the instruments;
that these are simply conduits granted by God for human expression.

Worship is not about traditional,
contemporary or a workable blend. Each generation preserves as well as contributes.

Worship is not about what posture we take kneeling, sitting, standing, hands to the side or raised high in the air. It's not about our eyes being open or closed.

With Sympathy...

We extend our sympathy to the Urish family. Joe Urish passed away January 12, 2017. A memorial service was held on Saturday, January 21 at the Chiles-Laman Shawnee Chapel, Rev. Dottie Kaiser, officiating.

Our thoughts and prayers are with the family during their time of grief.

APRIL

Saturday, April 15

Frankly put, worship is not about us...or what we can "get out of it at all."

Worship is much simpler, much truer, than that. It is a choice; a deliberate action that does not need anything but our willing hearts engaging God's heart.

One-on-one.

Heart-to-heart.

Alone or in a crowd.

Giving Him the honor and glory due Him regardless of our circumstances.

Regardless of our feelings.

Regardless of what else might be demanding our time and attention.

There right where we are we, too, can simply adore and reverence Him."

Sheila Mills (c) 2016. Sheila is an author, musician and speaker who lives in Kentucky. She is the author of "Beauty in the Brokenness" Bible study, based on the woman at the well's encounter with Jesus in John, chapter 4. Several of her song lyrics have been published in poetry books.

Come to Worship - Right where you are in life. Come to praise God and give Him the glory. God welcomes you to His house no matter what.

Just come! He's waiting for you, always!
